[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' or 'undeciphered' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention. Researchers should not rely solely on the transcripts but should review the originals for themselves. These transcripts are intended as an aid to research, not to be used in lieu thereof.]

State of Alabama Conecuh County}

On this eleventh day of April in the year of our Lord 1838 personally appeared before Henry F. Sterns Judge of the County Court of County, it being a Court of record William Thompson at the residence of said Thompson he being old and infirm and not being able to ride to Sparta the Court house in said County of Conecuh which residence is in the County of Conecuh and State of Alabama, who on the 15th day of August in the year of our Lord 1836 in the same Court before Jeptha V. Perryman then Judge of said Court, made his declaration, in order to obtain the benefit of the Act of Congress passed June 7th 1832 in relation to pensions and who after being duly sworn makes the following statement as supplemental to said declaration (viz.)

On first entering the service on the 29th March 1776 as stated in his first declaration above alluded to -- the company to which he belonged was marched near the residence of one Ankrum [sic, Ancrum] on Congaree River and they then there encamped one month under Lieutenant Berry, and were there relieved by another company or class taking their place in service, and this applicant and his company were permitted to remain about two months at home.

The company and himself were again called into service, and this applicant says he was stationed in his second tour on the Saltketcher [River] or branch of Edisto [River] about one month, and was together with his company relieved by another class or company taking their place; and they were permitted to go home and remained about two months.

They were then called into service and marched to Bacon's Bridge on Ashley River, and were stationed there and at a ferry about 3 miles below about one month, under the command of Colonel Neal [sic, Neel], Major Bratton and Captain Neal [sic, Neel] and other captains whose names this applicant does not now recollect a considerable portion of Colonel Neal's Regiment being in service this Tour at the places before mentioned this applicant was then permitted to go home & remained there about two months.

Again required to entered the service and stationed high up on Broad River to oppose the Indians and was employed together with others as well as he can recollect about two months as Rangers and spies and marched to the Currahee [?] Mountains and thence to an Indian town on Hightower, called Big Savannah which they destroyed, and two other Indian towns one called Thompson's Town and the other Coosa Wattee [?]. They then returned to camp on Broad River, near Hillhouse iron works and remained there nearly one month in camp and then were permitted to return home and remained there about one month. That on this last expedition they were commanded by Captain Doroughety, Captain Williamson and Lieutenant Ryan and other Lieutenant whose name he does not now recollect.

This applicant then with the others volunteered as minute men to be ready to march whenever required. This applicant then in the company of Captain Potts was marched high up on Broad River and stationed there and employed with others about two months as Rangers and spies, during which time they were visited and examined by General Stuart. This applicant then continued a volunteer and minute man during the whole of the Indian war, and was frequently called into service for short periods of time sometimes for ten days, sometimes for shorter & sometimes for longer periods of time than that and continued as a minute man for between two and three years, and was employed when in service the whole world the time last mentioned upon the Indian frontier. Lord Cornwallis and his British troops having gone to North Carolina and Virginia.

This applicant says the reason for his not applying sooner for a pension are that he lives in an obscure part of the country. That he is old and does not take newspapers, and that he did not know until he was informed a short time before his application for a pension that he was entitled to one or any other soldiers except what belonged to the Continental line. Sworn to and subscribed the day & year aforesaid.
