To the Hon'ble Assembly of Virginia

The Petition of Samuel Sutherland respectfully sheweth that he served as a Soldier in the first Regiment of Artillery, in the late War that he was taken a prisoner by the British troops, that when he was relieved from his Captivity he lived at such a remote distance from the proper Officer to give him a Certificate [of discharge] that he often made the attempt to see his Officer, but never did succeed to obtain a Certificate 'till lately the Petitioner now hopes the Hon'ble Assembly of Virginia will take his case under Consideration and do him that Justice that is due to him and he as in duty bound will pray &c [In different handwriting]

I was taken prisoner by the British at Little York, and was taken to Jamestown Bay on board the Royal George and was parolled. I had been in service before taken prisoner near three years, it would have been three years the August following. I was taken prisoner on May 22nd 1781. I however afterwards returned to the army to serve in place of my father I was not in any engagement or battle, I resided in Fluvannah [sic: Fluvanna] County when I enlisted I marched through Virginia and was sometimes in North Carolina, and sometimes in Maryland, and was some months in Jersey generally being on the rivers or bays guarding & defending them from the entry of enemys. NOTE: Sutherland's claim for a pension was denied because his name could not be found on the rolls, and he apparently could not find two witnesses to his service.
