State of North Carolina Rutherford County: On this 8th day of June A.D. 1833

Personally appeared before me an acting justice of the peace in and for the County of Rutherford & State of North Carolina William Crane a resident of said County of Rutherford, who being first duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration amendatory of his former declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provision of the Act of Congress passed June the 7th 1832.

He states that he is unable by means of old age and bodily infirmity to travel to the Courthouse without subjecting himself to hazard and inconvenience, as he lives at a distance of twenty-five miles from the Courthouse – That in addition to the service before mentioned he served two Tours of six months against the Indians in Rutherford County then Tryon County under Captain Samuel Hunter in the years as well as he recollects of 1776 & 1777 he was mostly at a place called Russells Station on Broad River, that the reason of his not mentioning this Service in his former declaration was that he did not know that he was entitled to a pension ~~against~~ for his service against the Indians – That he was born in Virginia Culpeper County in the year 1748. That he has no record of his age only ascertains his age from memory being told by his parents. That he was living in Tryon County North Carolina when called into service (now Rutherford County) that he lived three or four years in the same County after the close of the Revolution he then removed to Pendleton District South Carolina where he lived for twenty-seven years that he then removed back to Rutherford County in the year 1807 or 1808 where he has lived ever since and where he now lives. That he volunteered for the two tours before mentioned against the Indians, and that he enlisted under Lieutenant Samuel Jackson in the company of Captain Johnson in the Regiment of Colonel Middleton, who formed a part of General Sumter's Army. That he was acquainted with Colonel Thomas, Colonel Middleton, Colonel Waters, Captain Waters, Major Baker, & General Sumter. That he never had any written discharge but was discharged verbally or if he did receive a written discharge he does not now recollect. That he is acquainted with John Howell & Charles Collins who live in his present neighborhood & who can testify as to his character for veracity and give their belief as to his services as a soldier of the revolution and that there is no clergyman in his neighborhood.

Sworn to and subscribed the day and year aforesaid.
