When he became unable to support himself by labor he made various attempts to procure proof of his service and to make such a declaration in form as the law required, but from his own ignorance and the want of skill in those to whom he applied he has hitherto been unable to succeed. After walking many hundreds of miles he at last found John Price the Sergeant who commanded him and from him obtain the affidavit which accompanies this declaration. And in pursuance of the act of the first of May 1820, I do solemnly swear that I was a resident Citizen of the United States on the 18th day of March 1818 and that I have not since that time by gift, sale or in any manner whatever disposed of my property or any part thereof with intent thereby so to diminish it as to bring myself within the provision of an act of Congress entitled "an act to provide for certain persons engaged in the land and naval service of the United States in the revolutionary war" passed on the 18th day of March 1818, and that I have not nor has any person in trust for me any property, or securities, contracts or debts due to me nor have I any income whatsoever; That since the 18th of March 1818 no change has taken place in my circumstances having had

Thomas Donoho was Commissioned Captain on the 10th September 1776, Major 13th of October 1781, and deranged 1st January 1783.

I do not find the name of Robert Moore as an officer of the revolutionary Army on the rolls -- Dempsey Moore was Lieutenant in Captain Donoho's company of the 6th Regiment commission 28th of October 1776. John Moore Lieutenant 7th Regiment 28th of November 1776 in Captain Eli's Company -- Elijah Moore was Lieutenant 12 October 1777 Captain 13th of October 1781, Deranged 1st January 1783. -- Gillon 31st May 1826.

Raleigh North Carolina 4th of April 1829

Sir

I have carefully examined the muster rolls in the Office of Secretary of State for the name of Jesse Duncan a revolutionary Soldier, and find a Soldier of that name enlisted in May 1776 for 2 1/2 years and was discharged in May 1779. He was of Captain Reid's company of the 1st Regiment.

This differs very materially from the Declaration of Jesse Duncan accompanying your letter of the 31st Ultimo, but from his having sold and conveyed the Warrant issued for his services to Colonel Charles Robeson of Washington City then in this State, but now of the State of Tennessee, and which I believe joined to Washington County in Virginia, I am induced to think that he is the same person, and that his memory being bad he has been dead and era by the Deposition of John Price.

The name of Jesse Duncan is found but once on the rolls in this Office.

Very respectfully

Your Obedient Servant

State of Indiana, Rush County: In the Rush Circuit Court September term A. D. 1832

On this 2nd day of September A. D. 1832, personally appeared before the Judges of the said Rush Circuit Court now sitting in & for the County aforesaid in the sixth Judicial Circuit of the state aforesaid, Jesse Duncan, a resident of Noble Township in the said County of Rush and State of Indiana, aged about seventy eight years, who being first duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provision made by the act of congress passed June 7, 1832.

That he enlisted in the army of the United States in the year 1778 as he thinks in the month of April in the company commanded by Capt. Robert Moore; and served in the seventh Regiment of the North Carolina line under the following named officers to wit: after he was enlisted by the said Capt Moore, he (Moore) marched the company to South Carolina, to the main army commanded by Genl. Lincoln [Benjamin Lincoln]. That Col. Saunders, he thinks, commanded the regiment in North Carolina; he however thinks Col. Saunders, was only a militia officer, or at least took no further command than to superintend the enlistments. That Major (afterwards Col) Donouho [sic, Thomas Donoho?] was Major of the regiment to which this applicant was attached in South Carolina. That the Colonel was Archibald Lytle. That Capt. Moore as soon as he marched their company to the army under the command of Genl. Lincoln, returned and this applicant states that according to the best of his recollection, the company was put under the command of a Capt. Moore, not however the Capt. Moore under whom he enlisted, and that Rutherford was the Lieutenant of said company. That he enlisted in Caswell County in the state of North Carolina. That he was marched into Halifax, Virginia for the purpose of joining the Northern Army under the command of Genl. Washington, but were ordered back to South Carolina, and marched thither by the way of Caswell County, to the Widow Fifer's mill on Deep River, North Carolina to what was called the ten mile house, ten miles from Charleston, South Carolina, from thence to Augusta, and crossed the Savannah River. That he was in the Battle of Brier [sic, Briar] Creek under the command of Genl. Ash [sic, John Ashe] in Georgia. That afterwards he returned to South Carolina, and was in the battle of Stono under the command of Genl. Lincoln. That he enlisted for nine months, but served according to the best of his recollection about two months over his time. That he was discharged in South Carolina – Col. Lytle discharged the Regiment. He hereby relinquishes any claim whatever to pension or an annuity, accept the present, and declares that his name is not on the pension roll of the agency of any state. Sworn to and subscribed the day and year aforesaid. \
