That he entered the service of the United States under a Capt Lewis Jones of Amelia County in the State of Virginia, as a Militia man, who were called minute men, and marched under the command of the aforesaid Capt Lewis Jones to Norfolk, in Virginia, and arrived there on New Year's day in the evening, the same night the town was set on fire by the British, but this declarant does not now recollect the year; James Foster and Robert Foster were his first and second Lieutenants, after the British had fired Norfolk this declarant was marched about 10 miles from that place, to a point at or near Kemp's landing¹, then so called, where he remained until the month of May following, having been in the Service under the aforesaid Capt Jones about 6 months.

This declarant then went unto the Marine Service under a Capt Hanway or Hanby and was sent to a place on James River called Sandy Point where he remained waiting for a galley some short time and so soon as it arrived he went on board and sailed to old James town. The galley was commanded by Capt. John Colvert [sic, probably Capt. John Calvert]². This declarant was in the Marine Service about 3 months as well as he now remembers under the said Hanway & Calvert. He was afterwards in the same Service under Capt. Pollard and Lieutenant Stratton in a galley called the Hero, commanded by a Capt. Mooter [sic, Capt. John Muter]³. This declarant was a midshipman on board of this galley for about 6 months, having Served in it 12 months altogether. He left the aforesaid galley in September 1777 and in the year following he went as a seaman on board a New vessel built at Gasport & commanded by a Capt. Wren and Lieutenant Stratton but just before she sailed he was taken sick and did not accompany the vessel. After this he was 3 months in the Service of a merchant Mill, making flour for the army. This mill was in Amelia County Virginia & belonged to two Gentlemen by name of Coke. After he left the aforesaid Mill he again entered the United States Service under a Capt. Fulks and served 4 months the whole company were discharged Shortly after the surrender of Cornwallis, this declarant having served 2 years & 4 months, in the whole as a Soldier in the war of the Revolution. This declarant was born in Caroline County Virginia in July 1753. He has now no record of his age. He resided in Amelia County Virginia when he entered the service, and continued to reside in that County until he removed to Grayson County Virginia about 40 years ago, where he now lives. He was drafted as a militia man, except when he was in the marine service, & then he was a volunteer. He was acquainted with several of the regular officers, but has now forgotten their names. He never received a written discharge, and knows of no surviving witness who can testify to his service in the war of the revolution, but he is known to Stephen Hail and James Brewer in his present neighbourhood, who can testify as to his character for veracity and their belief of his service in the war of the revolution. He hereby relinquishes every claim to a pension or annuity except the present and declares that his name is not on the pension roll of the agency of any State.
