8th sometime in September 1782 volunteered as a private soldier in Cheraw district South Carolina his officers were Lieutenant Carol Captain Alexander McIntosh and under the command of General Marion served 2 months and was dismissed by his Officer got no discharge.

Declarant states that in his 7th tour as mentioned above he thinks he served about 6 months but is not certain but knows that he served 3 months as he has stated above. The 5 months tour mentioned in his first declaration which he has lived out in the amendment the length of time he cannot recollect and is willing to lose it. Declarant refers for the further particulars and general circumstances of his service and the battles that he was in 2 his first declaration and also states that he performed the greater part of his services in the State of South Carolina and in every tour which he served he was a private soldier.

Declarant states that he was acquainted with Generals Lincoln, Scott, Woodford, Hogun, Moultrie, McIntosh and Greene and Marion Colonel Campbell Lawrence [sic, probably Laurens] and count Pulaski and Colonel Washington besides the other officers mentioned in his declaration.

He has a copy of a record of his age in his possession taken from his father's Bible. He was born on the 14th day of March 1761 in the Cheraw district South Carolina where he resided until the revolutionary war then moved to Roane County Tennessee from there to Rhea County Tennessee where he now resides and has resided for the last 24 years -- all the discharges he ever received has been lost or mislaid. He never received a commission having never served in any other capacity than a private soldier. He has no documentary evidence nor does he know of any person by whom he can prove his services in the revolution. Declarant states that he is acquainted in his present neighborhood with John Conly a clergyman and John Locke the clerk of the Circuit Court and Allen Kenneday who can certify as to his character for veracity and their belief of his services as a soldier of the revolution whose certificate is annexed to his first declaration and for all further particulars he refers to his first declaration.

Declarant also states that he was in active service in each of the 8 tours that he has mentioned some times against the British and sometimes against the Tories, [several indecipherable words] in each tour called into service by competent authority and was in an embodied corps in South Carolina as above stated.
