Transcribed by Will Graves

State of Tennessee, Knox County

Be it remembered that on this 6th day of March 1819 before me one of the Judges of the Circuit Courts of the State of Tennessee being Courts of record personally appeared Wyatt Ballard aged 59 years in February last resident in Knox County Tennessee who being by me first duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to entitle himself to a Pension under the late act of Congress which provides for revolutionary soldiers To wit that he the said Wyatt Ballard did in the month of February in the year 1781 at the Town of Warrenton in the County of Warren in the State of North Carolina enter into the regular Army of the United States as a regular soldier in the Company of Captain Carter for the Term of 12 months said company being a company of the Second North Carolina Regiment commanded by Col. Dixon – But Colonel Dixon being absent the greater part of the year this Deponent enlisted for the Regiment was commanded by Major Armstrong said Second Regiment was a part of General Sumner's Brigade said Brigade being a part of General Greene's Command. This affiant further states he faithfully served the United States as a Common Soldier in the Corps before mentioned against the common enemy. The 12 months for which he engaged expired and until the last of April in the year 1782 when he was at Bacon's Bridge in South Carolina discharged by General Greene that his discharge is lost. The said Wyatt Ballard further swears he was at the taking of the following Fort at Wright's Bluff<sup>1</sup> on the Congaree at Thompson's Fort and one at Friday's Ferry<sup>2</sup> and two forts at Augusta<sup>3</sup> and then in the Battle on the 8th of September 1781 at Eutaw Springs<sup>4</sup> in which battle he was wounded severely by a musket Ball in the right arm which wound he shows.

The said Wyatt Ballard further states that he is in reduced circumstances and does stand in need of the assistance of his Country for support. That he never has been a Pensioner of any Country for said service and does hereby release to the United States all claim of a Pension except under the provisions of the before [indecipherable word] act which he claims the benefit of. That he has no other evidence that he knows of no of his service in his power.
