On this 27th day of March 1833 personally appeared in open Court before the County Court of Bedford County now sitting William Oliver a resident of said County aged seventy six years who being first duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provisions made by the act of Congress passed the 7th day of June 1832 viz.

That he was born about 1756 (as he always understood from his parents having no register of his age) in the County of Ann Arundal [sic: Anne Arundel] in the State of Maryland. That shortly after the commencement of the Revolutionary War he thinks about the year 1777 he having previously removed into Montgomery County in the State last aforesaid a call was made upon that County and he was drafted and went into service as a militia Soldier for a tour of three months and the company to which he belonged under command of Cap. Claxton marched from said County and were stationed at Georgetown on the Potomack [sic: Potomac] where he remained his full term of service and was discharged & returned home to said County of Montgomery. he received no written discharge and thinks he received no pay. he cannot at this distance of time remember any of the field officers there and then in command. That in about six months thereafter as nearly as he can now remember he enlisted for five months in the same county under one Cap. Campbell on continental service received a bounty of eight dollars paper money and was marched from Frederickstown [sic: Frederick] in said County under Cap Campbell to New York and was in the Regiment of Colo Griffin [possibly Charles Greenberry Griffith] & Colo. Shyhock [sic: Henry Shryock] in Genl Bells [sic: Reazin Beall's] Brigade. He was in the battle of New York (sometimes called York Island) [9 Nov 1776] and at the White plains [28 Oct 1776]. Was present when Forts Lee [19 - 20 Nov 1776] & Washington [16 Nov 1776] were taken by the British. that he served out his full term in active service and was honorably discharged at Philadelphia he kept his discharge to the end of the war but considering it of no value afterwards, it has been destroyed lost or mislaid.

That about one year thereafter he again enlisted in the same county under a recruiting officer one Major Simpson for three years on continental service received a bounty of eight dollars rendezvoused at Georgetown where the company was inspected and was shortly to march to join the Northern Army but before the company marched he received a serious injury in his right foot & ancle by having it severely crushed between the gunnall of a Schooner then lying in the river & the wharf. the injury was so serious that he was unable to march with his company and was left by the Company almost destitute; where he remained about six months and having been left unprovided and destitute he entered on board a privateer called the Friendship at Alexandria [VA] commanded by Cap Connaway or Conway. That they sailed from Alexandria and after having been at sea about a month they were captured after an action by Cap. Ridgeway of the British Navy, or perhaps a privateer he does not now remember the name of the vessel. He with others of his crew were landed on Curratuck Island [sic: Currituck in North Carolina] in a destitute condition, they had been prisoners about a month by the assistance of a boat wrecked on the Island they were put on shore and with difficulty he got home aided by some baggage waggons travelling from Williamsburg to Fredericksburg in Virginia. he continued home and unable to perform land service for a long time and still feels the effects of the injury aforesaid. That he states he served three months in the Militia of Maryland five months in continental service, enlisted for three years and after having been mustered and in service was disabled and was left destitute for six months, and from dire necessity was forced as a marine to join the privateer aforesaid – served and was detained as a prisoner of war about one month and was for a long time disabled from the the crushing of his foot and ancle aforesaid whilst preparing to go into the army under his enlistment for three years His suffering and permanent injury was of much greater privation and Injury to him than the three years service would likely have been. That he removed from Maryland to Albemarle County in Virginia about forty one years ago, and from that County to Amherst and from that County to Bedford County Virginia, his present place of residence where he has lived for the last eighteen years that he knows of no person living by whom he can prove his services except his sister Ann Marshall of said County of Bedford and whose affidavit is hereto annexed.
