[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading fails to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call errors or omissions to my attention.]

State of Virginia County of Prince George: On this 8th day of October 1839 Samuel Temple personally appeared in open Court before the Court of Prince George County now sitting being a resident of the County of Prince George in the State of Virginia aged ___ who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the act of Congress passed the 7th of June 1832. That he entered the service of the United States under the following named officers and served as herein stated. The first time he was called into service he went as a militia man under Captain John Holt in the year 1779 being the year before the Battle at Petersburg [April 25, 1781] he marched down James River and was attached to a detachment which was shifting its position up and down James River between Petersburg and Norfolk to prevent the landing of the British and watch the movements of the enemy, he went into service in the Christmas Holidays and served a tour of three months and was discharged at Mackey's mill on James River war near it, no regular discharge was (as he believes) ever given to any militia man, a mere certificate of service was given to show each man had served his regular Tour. He next went into service under Captain House, he was put under him in Petersburg he was employed in the same manner as the time he was before in service in a detachment marching up and down James River between Petersburg and Norfolk he served two months and was discharged in consequence of being sick; the next time he was called into service he went under Captain Epes [Eppes or Epps?]. He joined the detachment at Mackey's mill went over James River to Williamsburg & from there he was marched to York Town and was in service when Lord Cornwallis surrendered the British forces to our illustrious Washington, he participated in that glorious contest and was on severe duty during the Siege of York, he served seven weeks in this Tour.

This day Samuel Temple personally appeared before me William E. Rives – a Justice of the peace for the County aforesaid and made oath that the reason he did not apply for a Pension sooner he was unable to obtain such evidence as he was told was required by the Secretary of War to enable him to a pension, the persons with whom he served having died or moved away. He understands he has complied with the regulations of the War Department issued soon after the law of 1832 passed and did not imagine that lapse of time would ban a claim of the little bounty bestowed on the Soldiers of the Revolution. He swears that his agent in making the application is the same who has acted as the friend of most of the revolutionary claimants in this County and that he is not to receive any part or portion of his pension when obtained and has not instigated him to meet the application in any way or manner.

Given under my hand this 29th day of April in the year 1841
