[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention.]

State of Tennessee Lincoln County: County Court October Term 18

On the 19th day of October 1832 personally appeared in open Court before the Justices of the County Court of Lincoln County Tennessee Ralph Smith a resident of said County aged 69 years, on the 23rd or 26th of August last who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provision made by the act of Congress passed June 7th 1832.

That he enlisted in the Army of the United States in the year 1781, sometime in the month of April for a term of ten months with Captain Jacob Barnet [Jacob Barnett]; and served in the first Regiment (as he now thinks) of the South Carolina cavalry – the No. of the Regiment I do not know, but I recollect that our Regiment was always placed on the right – Our Regiment was commanded by Colonel [sic, Lt. Col.] Wade Hampton [sic, Barnett's Company was in the Regiment commanded by Lt. Col. Henry Hampton] & Major Rutherford [James Rutherford was Brigade Major under Lieutenant Colonel Wade Hampton], – the Company to which I belonged was commanded by Captain Jacob Barnet, first Lieutenant William Barnet [William Barnett] 2nd Lieutenant William Rogers – I lived at the time of my enlisting in York district South Carolina. I had first been drafted for a tour of 3 months and when I arrived at headquarters, on the Congaree River, just below where Columbia is now situated, I enlisted as above stated, which I think was on the 5th of April 1781 – there were two other regiments there besides the one in which I enlisted one commanded by Colonel Middleton [Lt. Col. Charles S Myddelton] and the other by Colonel Polk [William Polk] and all under the command of General Sumpter [Thomas Sumter] during the time of my ten months enlistment I was not engaged in any battle. About the beginning of summer, we marched towards Ninety Six, but understanding that the British had evacuated it, we marched towards Charleston, we turned our course and took some of them prisoners, but had no engagement with them – we pursued them to what was then called Congaree Fort, we were then engaged, principally in scouting parties, until sometime in September, our Regiment was ordered to join the forces under General Greene [Nathanael Greene], in order to attack the British under Lord Rawdon & the two armies met & had a battle at Eutaw Springs [September 8, 1781] him but I was not engaged in the battle, having been left at the Congaree, to take care of those who were sick in the hospital, in consequence of having no horse – we were then engaged in scouting parties against the Tories on the High Hills of Santee and in that vicinity until the end of my ten months service. Before the term of my first enlistment expired, I again enlisted in the same company & under the same Colonel Hampton & Major James Conyers (Major Rutherford having been killed at the Eutaw Springs) – for the term of 3 years – After we had become properly equipped we marched down on the Santee River, when Colonel Hampton married and retired from service. We were then placed under command of a Colonel whose name I think was Mebane [probably Hezekiah Maham], but he was not with us much and Major Conyers had the principal command of our Regiment until he died, which was a short time before Christmas in the year 1782 when his place was supplied by Captain Thomas Giles who was promoted to be a Major – we were then engaged in scouting parties in the neighborhood of Charleston until the British evacuated that town when we were dismounted and stationed in Charleston where we remained until the end of the war, when we were sent home upon a furlough about July 1783, which stated that we might remain until called upon by the proper authorities, if not called upon, it was to be considered as a final discharge – my furlough was signed by Major Henry Hearne, as well as I now recollect who was placed in the command when we were stationed in Charleston, but it is now lost. I have no documentary evidence of my services nor do I know of any person by whom I can prove them, except one Manyard Colley who enlisted in the same company that I did about the time that I enlisted the last time for 3 years, & whose affidavit will accompany this declaration – I continued to live in South Carolina till about 20 years since when I moved to this County where I now live.

I hereby relinquish every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present and declare that my name is not on the pension roll of the agency of any state.
