[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention.]

Sworn & subscribed in open Court 16th of March 1821.

[p 20, on October 11, 1843, in Yancey County North Carolina, Keziah Maney, 80, filed for a widow's pension stating that she married her husband near Jonesboro East Tennessee in the month of September in the year 1781; "She further declared that she was married to her said husband the aforesaid Martin Many prior to the expiration of the last period of his services, in the War of the Revolution viz. that her said husband was in the Army at the time she was married to him, he "...was one of a company of Cavalry that were stationed at a place called Campbell's Station which is on the waters of Big Limestone Creek, which service he soon left after we were married. The next service that her said husband was called into was in the summer of the year 1782 the summer following their marriage her said husband Martin Many was drafted for a Tour of service under Capt. James Wilson & Col. Sevier to go out on to Tennessee River against the Indians and Tories which tour of service he performed & was discharged and came home to her at which time she was a stating with her mother near Jonesboro Tennessee, the above was a tour of three months she thinks. Furthermore, that her said husband was out frequently after the above tour as a scout but did not perform any regulars term of service...." She signed her application with her mark]

[p 13, On October 11, 1843, John Many, son of Martin Many, stating "that he has his father's original family Record which he now exhibits showing the dates of the births of his Children by his wife Keziah of which (I certify) the following is a true copy

Nancy Many was born the 24th day of October 1783
John Many was born the 11th day of February 1785
Martin Many was born the 28th day of October 1787
William Many was born the 6th day of June 1795
Elizabeth Many was born the 22nd day of March 1798..."

[p 49: On October 11, 1843 in Yancey County North Carolina, Absalom Medcalf gave testimony that he was intimately acquainted for some 50 years with Martin Many, late a pensioner and now deceased, and his wife Keziah who is applying for a pension; that he has repeatedly her the veteran speak of his service during the revolution; that the widow's maiden name was Keziah Vann; that the veteran married her "while he was in the service, he the said Martin Many was doing duty in the Cavalry, which Tour of service expired soon after the marriage. And that in the year following or summer after their marriage said Martin Many was drafted into the Army again under Captain James Wilso [sic, James Wilson] Colonel Sevier he left his wife at her mother's and went into service & served out the tour for which he had been drafted. And as a reason in particular why this affiant remembers this term of service is that said Martin Many did shoot down & kill an Indian that had secreted himself in the fork of a tree which Indian head he brought into the Camp and it was Exhibited. Furthermore that this affiant did some 25 or 30 years ago spend a part of a day & night with said Captain Wilson & said Martin Many and on that occasion he the affiant heard the parties talk over the Circumstances of the tour of service that said Many had served with said Captain Wilson against the Indians, which tour of service was performed not long after Martin Many's marriage with his wife Keziah. Again that this affiant has always understood from said Many that he performed other services, that after his marriage till the close of the War which was about two [years] he was most of the time in the service as a scouter of the country where he lived, but did not perform but one regular tour of service after his marriage, was on one occasion drafted but hired a substitute for which he gave a bay mare that was about the close of the war about 2 years after his marriage."
