[Methodology: Spelling, punctuation and/or grammar have been corrected in some instances for ease of reading and to facilitate searches of the database. Where the meaning is not compromised by adhering to the spelling, punctuation or grammar, no change has been made. Corrections or additional notes have been inserted within brackets or footnotes. Blanks appearing in the transcripts reflect blanks in the original. A bracketed question mark indicates that the word or words preceding it represent(s) a guess by me. The word 'illegible' or 'indecipherable' appearing in brackets indicates that at the time I made the transcription, I was unable to decipher the word or phrase in question. Only materials pertinent to the military service of the veteran and to contemporary events have been transcribed. Affidavits that provide additional information on these events are included and genealogical information is abstracted, while standard, 'boilerplate' affidavits and attestations related solely to the application, and later nineteenth and twentieth century research requests for information have been omitted. I use speech recognition software to make all my transcriptions. Such software misinterprets my southern accent with unfortunate regularity and my poor proofreading skills fail to catch all misinterpretations. Also, dates or numbers which the software treats as numerals rather than words are not corrected: for example, the software transcribes "the eighth of June one thousand eighty six" as "the 8th of June 1786." Please call material errors or omissions to my attention.]

State of Georgia, Jasper County

On this Fifteenth day of October 1834 personally appeared before George W. Holland one of the Justices of the Inferior Court of the County aforesaid and which Court is a Court of Record, William McElhenny [sic] a resident of said County and State, aged Seventy-five years and who is so infirm as to be unable to appear in open Court, who being first duly sworn, according to Law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the provision made by the act of Congress, passed June 7th, 1832. That he volunteered in Chester District South Carolina in that part called Craven County in the South Carolina militia in the company commanded by Captain Mills [John Mills] and in the Regiment commanded by Col Lacie [sic, Edward Lacey] – sometime in the year 1779 – and served with the said Captain Mills a tour of duty of about three months or thereabouts during this service he was engaged in a fight which took place at a place called Motley's [sic, Mobley's] Meeting house [May 1780]¹ in Chester District between the Militia and a party of Tories – in this action Col Bratton [Lt. Col. William Bratton] of another Regiment commanded. That after the fall of Charleston [Charleston South Carolina fell to the British on May 12, 1780], he cannot recollect the date, having lain for years upon a sick bed – and being much impaired in memory – he volunteered again and under the same officers – and marched up to the Catawba River – where at Land's Ford his Regiment joined Colonel Sumpter's [sic, Thomas Sumter's] troops and marched with them to Corn[?]² station at Corn[?]³ Mills – that he marched with Col Sumter's forces to a place on the Catawba River where they met the British and Sumter was defeated [Battle of Fishing Creek, August 18, 1780].⁴ That they marched afterwards to join Col Campbell [William Campbell] at the place called the Cowpens and then marched to a place called Hanging Rock-- and then fought the enemy at that place [August 6, 1780]⁵ – this he thinks was in the summer or fall – that he afterwards marched for Kings Mountain and was there engaged in the battle [October 7, 1780]⁶ at that place against the Tories commanded by Ferguson [Patrick Ferguson] – he recollects Major Brown of the Regular Army at the time news arrived of the capture of Lord Cornwallis's Army [Yorktown, October 19, 1781] and that he then returned home. The reason he never was drafted was from a natural defect in the right arm and hand – he could perform services, but was such a man as was exempted from duty – he was born in the County of Lunenburg, State of Virginia – if there was ever a record of his age, he never saw it – but from subsequent events, to wit, the war, his marriage &c he thinks it was in the year 1759 – he lived in Chester District at the time he volunteered – and after the war in Richland District – then in Edgefield District & then in Abbeville District – from which last mentioned place he removed in the year 1825 in Georgia, Jasper County – where he now lives – he never received any discharge from service – he refers to the certificates of Stephen McElhenney⁷ & George Gill⁸ – soldiers of the Revolution who were acquainted with him at that time – and for further reference as to his character for veracity &c he also is the certificate of Robert Brown & Thomas Houston & David L. Adams a clergyman – all of whom are well acquainted with him at this time & for several years past – and reside in his neighborhood – he hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or an annuity except the present and he declares that his name is not on the Pension Roll of any Agency of any State – or (if any) only on that of the Agency of the State of Georgia.
