That she became acquainted with Benjamin Bohon before the war commenced and she knows that he belonged to the minute men and was as she believes at least nine months on duty it is impossible for her to recollect all the deferent Tours of duty he performed the duty performed by him in the minute service was before they were married she also recollects of his service at the Albamarle Barracks when prisoners were brought from the north [Hessians captured at Saratoga on 17 Oct 1777 and taken to Albemarle Barracks in Jan 1779] but whether it was one or two tours she cannot be perfectly certain, nor can she be certain as to their being two or three months Tours she knows her husband served under Col Spencer in the minute service and that he served Tours of duty under Captain Hawkins and under Capt Waugh. The last tour under Capt Waugh was after they were married and was absent from home upwards of three months. Anthony Wayne on 8 Jun 1781] crossed at the Raccoon ford on the Rapperdan with the army marching to the lower part of Virginia, her husband either volunteerd or was drafted, she does not certainly remember which and had marched on towards Williamsburg either under Captain Waugh, or Hawkins, her best opinion is it was Capt George Waugh. both companies started at the same time, he remained in the service for upwards of three months, this Tour and another one at the Albamarle Barracks he served after they were married she believes the Tour at the Barracks was two months, he was certainly at the taking of Lord Corn Wallis at York, she states in conclusion that firm the best of her knowledge and belief and from what she has heard him say, and others also, that he served as much in the army of the Revolution as any man from the state of virginia, except the regulars in the State and Continental lines. and farther sayeth not.
